

The Real Institute.

- Leading-edge, customized curricula for clients from not-for-profit, governmental, corporate and academic institutions with specific English language learning needs
- Specializes in designing and developing customized curricula and extra-curricular activities to meet institutional or sectoral needs
- Short to full-year programs some of which can incorporate academic credit courses

2013 - 21 students

2014 - 52 students

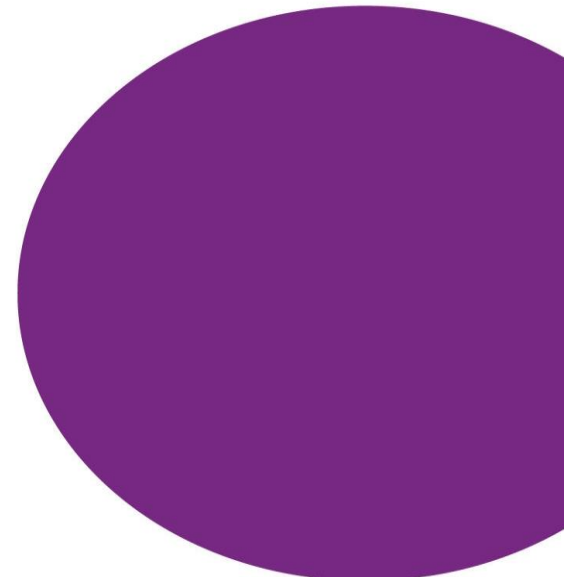

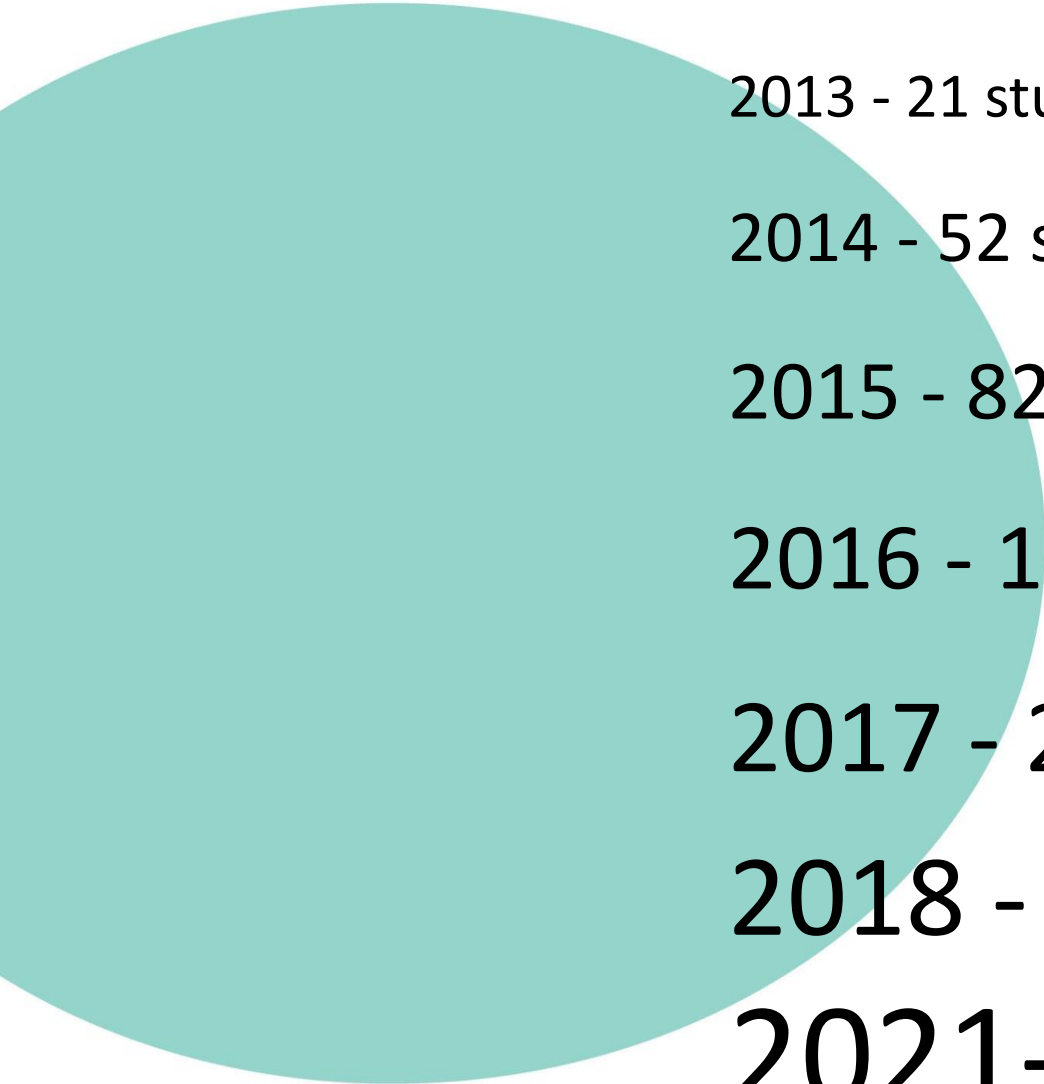

2015 - 82 students

2016 - 159 students

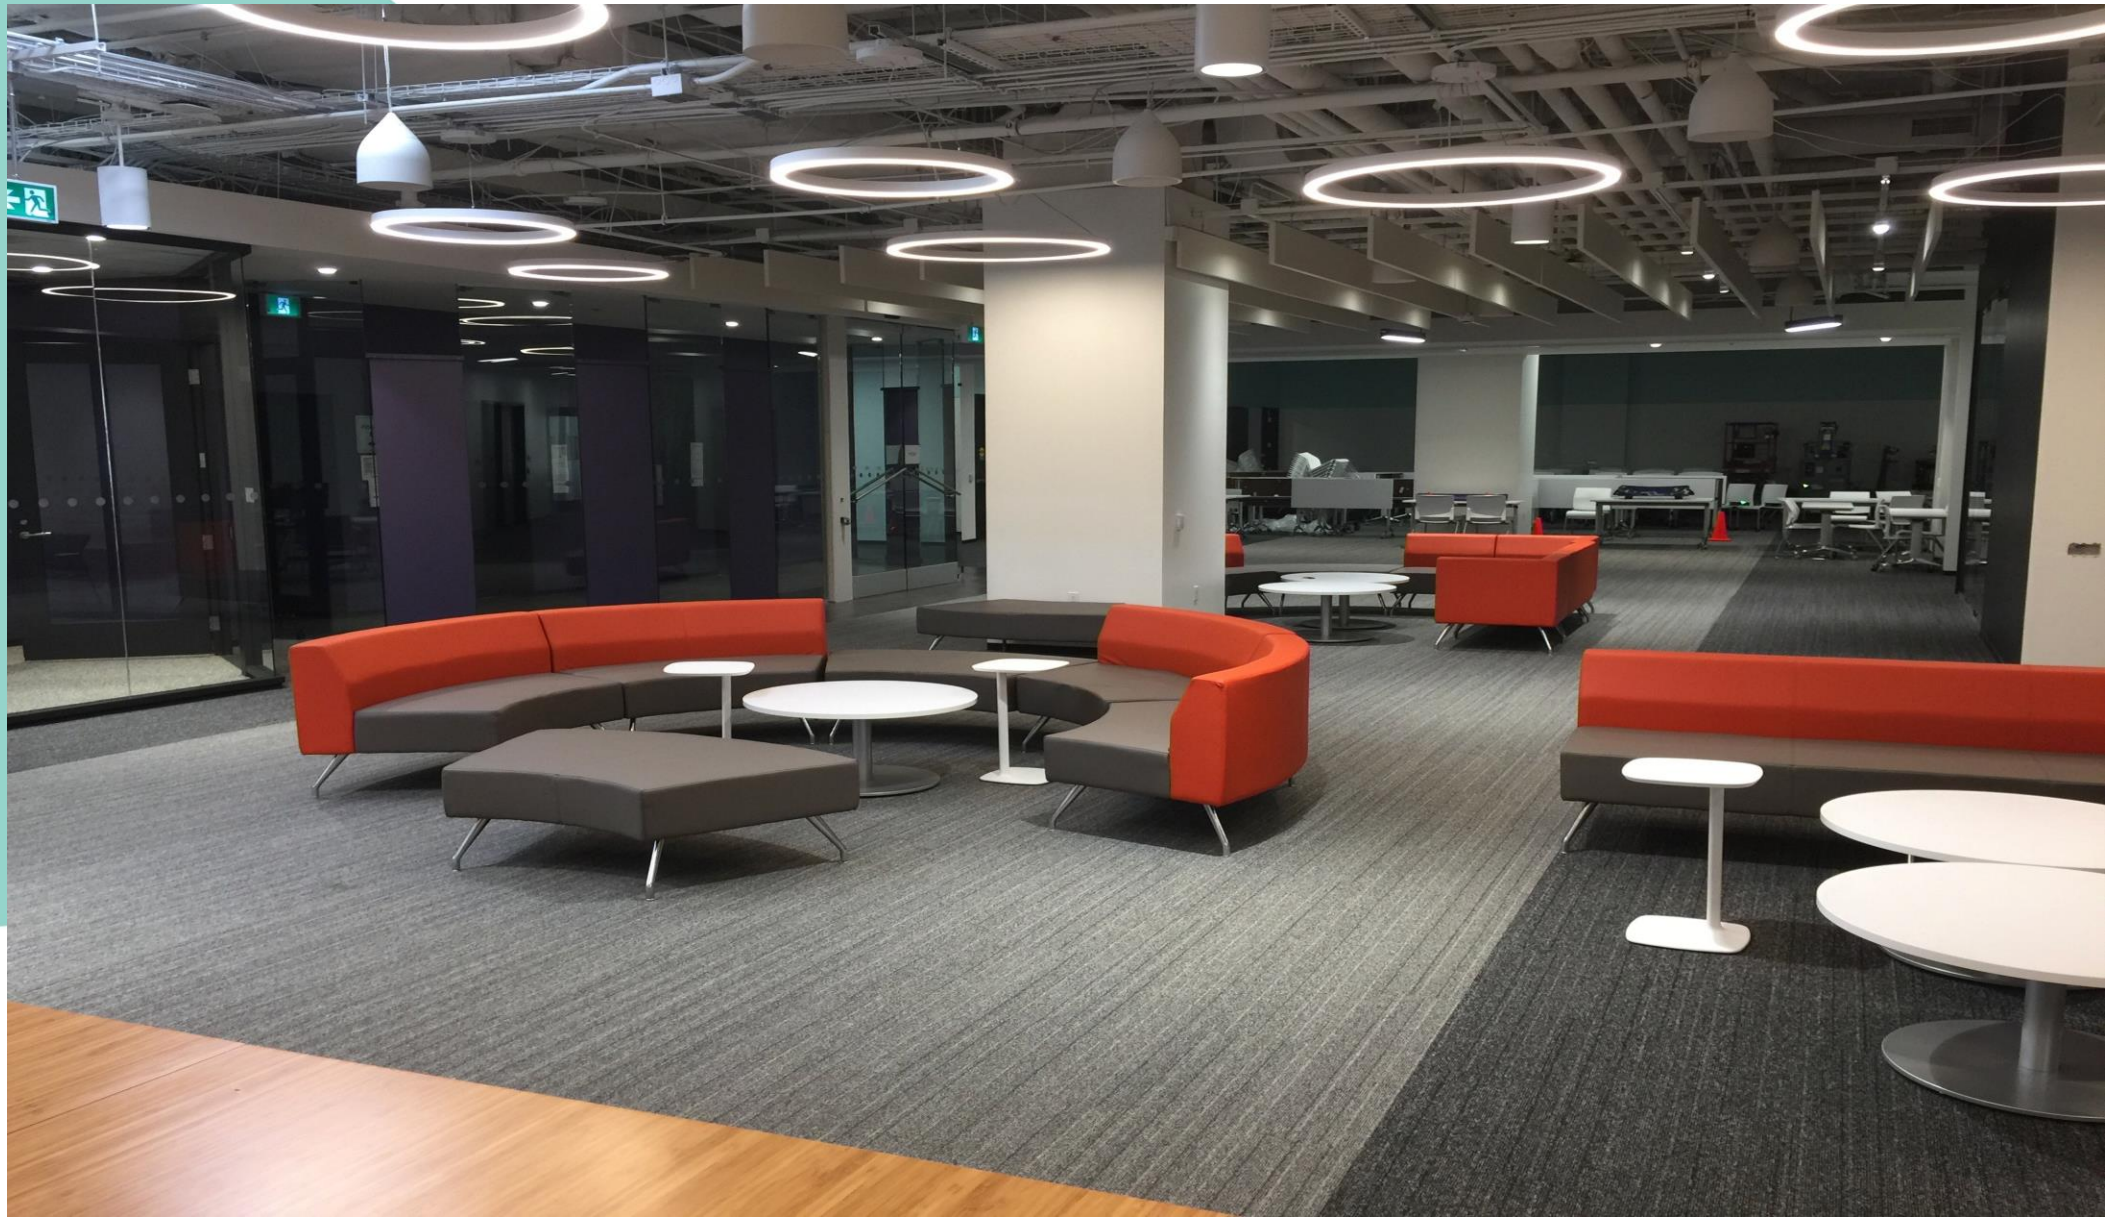

2017 - 217 student

2018 - 300 students?

2021- 600 students??

Real English Intensive Program

Real English Intensive Program

- Four, eight or twelve weeks of intensive English language learning complemented by social and cultural experiences in Canada's most lively and diverse city
- Fully customized language learning experience focused on listening, speaking, reading and writing skills in English
- Flexible, theme-based modular curriculum

Real English – Just for You

Real English – Just for You

- Fully customized learning experience focused on individual or small groups from specific academic disciplines or branches of industry
- Taught by instructors who are leaders in the field of English language acquisition who integrate the latest learning technology and students' lived experiences into the classroom
- Adaptable, theme-based modular curriculum developed for Ryerson's ground-breaking ESL Foundation Program

Program lasts for a minimum of four to a maximum of twelve weeks.

Real English ++

Real English ++

- Designed for international students who want to combine degree-credit study with English language education
- Complemented by five hours per week of hands-on, experiential learning
- Students earn up to TWO academic credits for the 100 hours of learning they complete; credits are issued by their home university

Real English – ESL Foundation Program

Real English – ESL Foundation Program

- Designed for students who are academically qualified to apply for admission to a Ryerson University undergraduate program, but do not meet the minimum English proficiency requirements
- Also suitable for students seeking to improve their language proficiency in order to enhance their chances for admission to other English-language universities
- Multi-modular curriculum developed by Ryerson University's language acquisition researchers and teachers

Real English – ESL Foundation Program

- Airport pick-up
- Assistance with finding accommodation on or off campus
- 30 hours per week of intensive academic learning in reading, writing, speaking, and listening
- Development of critical thinking, teamwork and research skills
- Access to a wide variety of undergraduate programs across six different faculties
- Brand-new, high-tech classrooms and facilities in the heart of downtown Toronto
- Customized study packages and classroom materials

Real English – ESL Foundation Program

- Classes capped at 17 students to ensure low student-teacher ratios and amazing learning experiences
- Extensive on-campus support systems that include personalized academic advising and career counselling
- Unique experiential learning activities, both inside and outside the classroom, e.g. PEP program
- Highly qualified instructors who provide individual attention to students' learning needs
- Peer Mentor support system at a ratio of 1 mentor for every section

Real English – ESL Foundation Program

- Balance of academic studies with cultural immersion and social activities, including visits to popular attractions, cultural sites, and any of the four Major League sports clubs
- Comprehensive health insurance, including free counselling in 65 languages
- Access to all on-campus support services designed to help students achieve their academic, professional, and personal objectives
- Guaranteed admission to the Ryerson University undergraduate program of choice

More Real English – Under Development

- EAP for incoming graduate students
- ESL/EAL Teachers' Training and Skills Upgrade Program
- ESL/EAL for internationally trained professionals

The Real Institute.

4-minute Video

The Real Institute.

Thank You!